CCS Handbook Agreement

Parents whose signatures are recorded on this form have acknowledged receipt of the Community Christian School Handbook (either by printed copy or access to the online version). We understand our responsibility to review and explain relevant content to our students. We acknowledge and agree to the policies contained therein, taking responsibility to review, explain and help enforce the school's student conduct policies with our students.

We understand that Community Christian School (CCS) is an independent private school, not under the jurisdiction of any public school district.

When school policies must change, we will be informed, formally or informally. We understand that CCS reserves the right to change policies at any time, with or without advance notice from parents.

While every attempt has been made to document all policies, guidelines and student conduct expectations, we understand that the CCS Handbook may not include all requirements and responsibilities which exist.

We understand that CCS reserves the right to exclude students or families who do not abide by school policies and guidelines.

For additional information or clarification of our policies, parents may contact the school Principal.
